Summer EMT Basic Course

Emergency Medical Technician - Basic students are trained to provide basic life support measures such as patient assessment, treatment of shock, oxygen therapy, use of certain medications, bandaging and splinting and emergency childbirth. Students will practice basic skills in small groups.

This class is designed for high school and college students who are accustomed to intense classes, extensive reading assignments and little opportunity for make up or extra help. Students who may require extra assistance are strongly urged to consider the fall class.

This class starts on Wednesday, June 1, 2011, is held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, & Thursday nights from 7 PM until 10:30 PM. The last class will be August 2, 2011. The date of the final test will be advised. Course graduates will receive New Jersey Department of Health & Senior Services certification and will be eligible for college credit recommendation.

This course will be presented at the Law & Public Safety Institute, EMS Academy, Mahwah., NJ.
